

Academic Update September 5, 2017

1. Tammy Jacques attended the meeting to provide a Title IX update, to share the Title IX brochure and resource card, and to reiterate the obligations to pregnant and/or parenting students. Ms. Jacques volunteered to attend faculty and/or department chairs meetings to spread the word about Title IX.
2. Student evaluation of instruction was discussed, and Dr. Alexander will voice to the Faculty Senate the COAD's support of continued review of the student evaluation process to include the philosophy, use of online administration, and review of the evaluation instrument.
3. Dr. Alexander provided an update on the grants administration process that will be utilized by a two-year contract with the Hanover Research firm.
4. The following topics were discussed: possible formal faculty mentoring programs; obligations to and duties of pregnant faculty members, to include possible substitution of administrative duties for teaching duties during the semester of delivery; a contract with Collegis for marketing online programs outside of the College of Business; and revisions needed to the present Exam Schedule.
