Founded in 1830 and located in beautiful and historic Florence, Alabama, the University of North Alabama offers courses of graduate study leading to degrees and/or professional certifications so that our students may increase their knowledge, further their careers, and succeed in their fields.

Why UNA?
Don’t take our word for it . . . .

“I chose UNA because it was easily affordable and remotely accessible. I do not have to travel hours to and from an in-person class. My favorite part about the program is how the professors promote a coherent environment that is inclusive to everyone, regardless of work experience and time removed from undergrad. Upon graduation, I plan on acquiring a position in either quality engineering or process engineering in the Northern Alabama area.”

Kiana Joseph
Master of Science in Applied Manufacturing Engineering

“My favorite thing about the degree so far is the flexibility it has afforded me and my family. I am a single dad and I watch my youngest son during the day while his older brother is at first grade. I can come to campus and sit in classes or meet with my professors in person, if I have the time. When I don’t have the opportunity to be on-site, I can attend lessons and meetings either via Zoom or through a pre-recorded lecture.”

ANDERSON College of NURSING and HEALTH PROFESSIONS

Nursing (M.S.N.) • Online Available
The MSN offers 3 curricular options for registered nurses holding a BSN degree from a regionally accredited institution:

- Teaching/Learning option: 32 credit hours, with two clinical courses requiring 90 clinical experience hours per course. The program will equip nurses with tools that will enable them to facilitate the education of nursing students, health care clients and health care colleagues. Nurses will also qualify to serve as a faculty member in an institute of higher learning and serve as an educator in the clinical environment. The program allows students to select a clinical area of interest such as adult health, women’s health, pediatrics, etc.

- Leadership option: 32 credit hours, with two clinical courses requiring 90 clinical experience hours per course. The program will prepare nurses to function at an advanced level in the health care environment regarding politics and legislation, budgeting and economics, and leadership and management, such that these nurses may positively impact the management aspects of nursing and health care in society.

- Family Nurse Practitioner* option: 41 credit hours, with five clinical courses requiring 120 clinical experience hours per course. Admissions requirements differ for this option and meeting minimum requirements does not guarantee admission to the program as it is highly competitive. Students will receive educational preparation that will enable them to provide patient-family-centered, evidence-based health care for individuals across the lifespan and will be allowed to select their clinical locations. Additionally, FNP track graduates will be prepared to sit for the national FNP certification examination.

*For the MSN-Family Nurse Practitioner option there are two required on-campus intensives.

Nursing Post-Masters Certificates • Online Only
The post-masters certificates are designed for registered nurses who have completed a master’s degree in nursing and are seeking academic preparation in a new specialty or subspecialty area of advanced practice nursing. UNA offers post-masters certificates in the following tracks: Leadership, Teaching/Learning, Family Nurse Practitioner. All tracks are offered in an online format and are designed to be in compliance with national certification requirements, when applicable. Admission and coursework requirements vary per track.
What sets UNA apart?

ACCREDITATION
The College of Business is accredited by AACSB International—The Association to Advance Collegiate Schools of Business, the hallmark of excellence in business education and earned by fewer than 5 percent of the world’s business programs.

The Counselor Education programs are accredited by CACREP (Council for Accreditation of Counseling and Related Educational Programs). CACREP is an independent agency recognized by the Council for Higher Education Accreditation to accredit graduate programs in several counseling specialties.

The College of Education and Human Sciences at the University of North Alabama is accredited by the Council for the Accreditation of Educator Preparation (CAEP), caepnet.org. This accreditation covers initial teacher preparation programs and advanced educator preparation programs at the University of North Alabama.
